

We have all heard it a thousand times, “Leads are the lifeblood of a real estate investing business”.

One of the most effective ways to capture motivated seller leads is by having a robust marketing program that includes high-quality content in the form of blog articles.

The problem is...

like most busy investors you probably do not have the time to research, write, format and optimize blog posts so that they drive traffic to your website and help convert visitors to leads.

That’s where my friend Patrick Yopez and the REI Content Packs come in!

Together with his team he has created the REI Content Starter Pack.

It consists of 52 exceptionally well written and beautifully designed blog posts full of meaningful and informative content that answer the questions that motivated sellers are looking for on Google.

These high performing blog articles will save you a ton of time from writing your own content and avoid the headaches and costs of trying to find writers for your blog.

In a few minutes you can customize each pre-written article to your local market and business and then publish it as your own.

The blog content packs consists of:

- 52 professionally pre-written real estate investor blog posts you can publish weekly for an entire year
- 100 attention grabbing images
- 38 beautifully designed infographics
- 10 dynamic animation videos
- Keyword centric topics
- Evergreen Content
- Attractive Formatting
- Hyper-Local Focus

I have arranged a special 20% discount exclusively for xxxxxxxxx.

Just enter the discount code 20PercentAffiliate on the checkout page.
